LEWIS THREATENERS PRICE CONTROL PLAN

Washington (AP)—John L. Lewis, head of new wage contracts, said his soft coal diggers today agreed to have thrown a monkey wrench into government plans to control price controls off the bituminous coal industry.

A price control official said the Lewis threat was a "depressed economic situation of the industry."

In this connection, an OPS official disclosed an order has been issued to grant the anthracite industry a 75-cents-per-ton ceiling on small sizes sold chiefly to industrial users. This order is due to be issued next Tuesday. The ruling rises would affect those prices of anthracite now prices between $4.10 and $5 per ton at the mines.

An official said these small sizes, used by public utilities and other industrial concerns, account for 45 per cent of anthracite production. The increases would not affect the larger sizes used for heating. Ceilings on these range from $11.40 to $14.70 per ton at the mines.

WO BIG CITIES IN SIMULATED RUINS

Ft. Worth, Tex. (AP)—New York and Philadelphia were simulated ruins today after a mock bombardment by two squadrons of giant B-36 bombers.

Thirty-five of the planes, termed "atomic" atom bomb carriers, landed in the simulated air strikes yesterday and 34 returned to Carswell Air Force Base, New Mexico, while the other landed at Dallas, 11 miles short of its home base. Planes from the 7th and 11th heavy bombardment squadrons left Carswell Wednesday on the practice mission.

Eisenhower and Running Mate Meet With Dulles to Map Strategy

By The Associated Press

The major activity in the Eisenhower campaign today was the meeting of the Eisenhower campaign headquarters in New York City.

The general, his running mate, Richard M. Nixon, and John Foster Dulles, the party's international affairs expert, met to map campaign strategy on foreign policy issues.

Out of the session may come a decision on just how hard Eisenhower will strike out against the foreign policy of the Truman administration—a policy he helped carry out as European defense commander.

Eisenhower began today's meetings cheered by reports from two army leaders who backed Sen. Robert A. Taft for the nomination. They said they would give their full support to the present ticket, or Len B. Jordan of Idaho and George T. Hansen, national committeeman from Utah, passed this word along to him yesterday, adding that prospects looked bright for the GOP in their states.

In Springfield, Ill., the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Dwight D. Eisenhower, was reported today to kick off his campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit followed by a swing into the South to hold the Dixie vote in the electoral college.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland opened fire on Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama. McKeldin said Stevenson's one-time endorsement of Alger Hiss is a legitimate and proper point of attack in the campaign. He said parkman was named by the Democrats to buy Southern votes. Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin said he plans to campaign actively for the renomination of U. S. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Van Zandt Urges US Call Russia's Bluff

Los Angeles (AP)—Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) says "in Korea we are the victims of the biggest bluff in history, and if we don't call that bluff, Russia will ruin us economically."

Van Zandt, speaking to the Optimist Club yesterday, advocated "musterling all our military might for an all-out war and in heavy air attacks on the Manchurian installations of the enemy, including his supply centers."

He said Secretary of Defense Lovett told the House Armed Services Committee, of which Van Zandt is a member, that the armed services planning extends 10 years into the future. Van Zandt, who served three terms as National (Turn to Page Nine)

Billion Dollar Drought in New England And South Appears to Have Been Broken

The billion dollar drought in New England and the South appeared broken today and government agencies moved swiftly to get weather-harassed farmers back into production.

The immediate goals:

1. To get feed to hungry livestock on burned out pasture and prevent premature slaughtering.
2. To get fall plowing started.

The Agriculture Department ordered a survey of excess hay supplies in the Midwest. It directed chairmen of state agricultural mobilization committees from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois to look into the possibility of obtaining hay in those states.

FIRST DEFEAT FOR M'KELLAR IN 41 YEARS

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—Two-ated campaigner Albert Gore, administrator Kenneth D. McKellar his first political defeat in 41 years, pulled steadily away from the elderly senator today in cleanup returns from the Democratic primary.

With all but a smattering of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts in from yesterday's voting, the 44-year-old Gore had a lead of better than 60,000 over the 83-year-old McKellar.

Memphis where McKellar had, as usual, the support of politico E. H. Crump. But where Crump in his political heyday delivered virtually a solid vote, the 62 precincts gave Gore 23,586 votes, McKellar 25,915.

In another outing of the "ins", 32-year-old Frank G. Clement ended Gordon Browning's four-year reign as governor. Browning was seeking a third two-year term.

Returns from 2,022 of the state's approximately 2,300 precincts gave Gore 210,300 votes, a lead of about 55,000 over McKellar's 155,883.

But McKellar, remaining in his hotel room at Memphis, refused to concede defeat in his try for an unprecedented seventh term in the Senate.

The winner in the Democratic senatorial primary faces only token Republican opposition in the November general election in overwhelmingly Democratic Tennessee.

Hobart Atkins of Knoxville apparently was an easy victor in a three-man race for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Memphis political leader E. H. Crump, on the comeback trail after his gubernatorial and senatorial candidacies were defeated four years ago by Browning and Sen. Estes Kefauver, supported McKellar and Clement.

Crump, always a McKellar stalwart, could not stem the tide against the aging senator. Just what his support of Clement meant was a matter of conjecture.

McKellar, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has been a powerful figure on the Washington political scene for more than a quarter century. He was a strong supporter of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Gore, although still in his early 40's is a veteran of seven terms in the House.

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

MRS. GORDON F. WELLS, 50, who disappeared nine days ago, was last seen at 1:30 p. m. July 30, near the tree shown in the top picture, which is a photograph of "Hi Acres," the Wells' beautiful country home at Robbins Hill in a mountainous area near Akeley. The lower picture shows their comfortable and pleasant residence at 32 Pearl street, Frewsburg. Mr. Wells told the Times-Mirror, Thursday, that he is sure Mrs. Wells is dead and that her body is in the hills not far from "Hi Acres."

Identity of "Man With Shovel" May Lift Shroud of Mystery Veiling the Disappearance of Mrs. Gordon Wells

Who was the man with the shovel? Sombre mystery continues to shroud the disappearance of Mrs. Gordon F. Wells, 50, of Frewsburg, from the Wells' summer home, "Hi Acres," in Elk township, not far from Akeley, over one week ago, and it is possible a solution depends upon the ability of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Mead to "remember that face" of the man with the shovel.

Mr. and Mrs. Mead were driving from their farm home on Russell RD 1 at 1:30 p. m., Wednesday, July 30, to the home of Glenn Baker when they passed the Wells home and saw the man with the shovel only a few hours before Mr. Wells arrived home to find his wife gone.

On Tuesday, a displaced person from Czechoslovakia, Wassilij Gussew, who had made his home with the Wells since last November, left for New York and Mr. and Mrs. Moore are sure the man they saw was not Gussew. Besides, Gussew had been traced to Warren where he boarded a bus for New York.

"I know I've seen the man before," Mr. Mead told a Times-Mirror reporter yesterday. "Sooner or later it will come to me who he is."

Mr. and Mrs. Mead saw the man with the shovel sitting in the Wells flower garden, along the edge of the gravel road, with his feet in the ditch, and beside him, on the ground, was the shovel. He wore a felt hat, brown or tan trousers and shirt, was between 50 and 60 years old and "had a familiar look." Mr. Mead said he nodded to the man in passing, received no acknowledgement in return. "I was about six feet from him, on the driver's side," said Mr. Mead.

While Mr. Mead did some work at the Baker home during the rest of the day, Mrs. Mead spent the afternoon with Mrs. Baker. Few cars pass the Baker home, and all were recognized that afternoon "with the exception of a black Chevrolet panel truck," to quote Mr. Mead, who said "We didn't know the driver nor recognize the car."

It came from the direction of the Wells home. Mrs. Wells, at the time the Meads saw the man sitting along the road, was on the remote side of her home. She could not have seen the man from where she stood as the Meads passed. Whether she knew the man with the shovel was there may never be known.

Ever since the woman's disappearance was reported, it has been known that a trowel-type shovel is missing. It was said she sometimes carried this implement with her as defense against name which the Wells had given

Mr. Mead said "We almost called on you to loan us 'Friday' to help with the work." Mrs. Wells laughingly replied "That's the least I could have done."

The grounds surrounding the Wells home are mute testimony of Mrs. Wells' pride in the place. It was she who planted row upon row of flowers, and the place is landscaped with small pine trees. The house and outbuildings are imposing, especially when come

HEROIC CREW SAVES VESSEL AFTER BLAST

Tokyo (AP)—Far East Naval headquarters today described how heroic crewmen saved the aircraft carrier Boxer from flaming explosions which killed nine shipmates. Minutes after flames broke out below decks at dawn Wednesday, crewmen braved smoke and inferno-like heat to unload bombs and ammunition from planes readied for strikes against the Communists in North Korea.

Other seamen donned oxygen masks and rescued comrades trapped by smoke and flames. Their skipper called it an "inspiring performance."

The Navy here said the fire and explosions injured 32. The injury toll reported in Washington was 75, but a Navy spokesman here said that probably included those temporarily overcome by smoke but not injured.

Headquarters said the cause was undetermined and did not reveal extent of the damage.

The fire and explosions seared the 27,000-ton flattop's hangar deck—the level immediately below the flight deck.

A naval court of inquiry was ordered to investigate.

Although Capt. Marshall B. Gurney, the skipper, said the Boxer was able to carry on its mission, the carrier was sent to Japan for repairs. The explosions occurred while the Boxer was 90 miles east of Wonsan, Korean East Coast port.

The nine dead included a Navy (Turn to Page Nine)

Good Progress On Jackson Run Road Project Reported

The Jackson Run highway improvement project is progressing approximately on schedule according to Arden Gorley, superintendent of the Allegheny Asphalt and Paving Co., which has the contract for the job.

The rough grading is 100 per cent completed and workmen are ready to pour the last bridge deck today at the span crossing the stream at the Harry Connors summer home. Two spans crossing the run near the Harry Logan farm have both been completed.

The stone widening process is 17 percent in, rolled and placed, the official stated.

The entire project is just a few days behind schedule, it was explained, due to delays in shipments of steel during the fall of 1951. There is assurance, however, that the contract will be completed some time in October.

It was stated that workmen are some times delayed by traffic that persists in using the highway under construction despite the warnings and barricades that are erected at both ends of the road. Provisions have been made to make it possible for residents along the route to get to and from their homes, but it was stated that it would be very much appreciated if others would refrain from driving over the road when it is not necessary.

Foreign Students To Be Guests of Arena Theater Next Week

Two foreign students who are visiting Warren this summer will be the guests of the Arena Theater next week when the comedy "Charley's Aunt" is presented in the Y Annex Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8:30.

Marga Schmitz, whose home is in Germany, and Kennedy Thom who came here from England, will see the play on one of those nights as part of the summer program which is making them familiar with life in an American community. The play will be of particular interest to Mr. Thom for it was written in England in 1892 and first produced in London where it ran for four years.

Meanwhile the cast is ready for the dress rehearsal on Monday evening. Although being done in the Arena style of staging there are three different scenes requiring change of sets and furniture. The stage was enlarged and improved to take care of this more elaborate setting and Blomquist Furniture Shop of North Warren, and Waxman's Furniture Store are cooperating in providing stage furnishings.

Ned Shulman and Glen Nelson have erected an ingenious set which transforms the locale from a college to a garden and finally to a drawing room.

For three of the cast "Charley's Aunt" will be a farewell appearance at least for a year. Bill Hill, Jr., who also had a leading role in the first production last month, will return to Dickinson Law School in the fall. Dorothy Benson, who is also making her second appearance with the summer group, will enter her senior year at Clarion State Teachers College. And Dr. Anita Uhl who is on the staff of the Warren State Hospital plans to move to California to make her home this fall.

The office of Dr. L. J. Berger will be located in the Columbia Theatre Building during August and September. 8-5-52

NEWSPAPER PRICES MUST BE INCREASED!

The price of newsprint has been increased twice within 6 months, each time $10.00 per ton. All other items entering into the publication of a newspaper have been increased in a like manner. Practically every newspaper in the country has been forced to increase their subscription and advertising rates.

Up to the present THE TIMES-MIRROR has absorbed all of these increases without any increase in the cost of the paper. Advertising Rates are also unchanged. How long we will be able to "HOLD THE LINE" with these rates we do not know, but if materials and services continue to raise it is inevitable that THE TIMES-MIRROR will have to have an increase.

Barn Near Center Of Tionesta Burns

Tionesta—Fire levelled a barn near the center of town last night and among the articles destroyed was the old Tionesta Fire Department truck.

The barn, owned by Robert Foreman, cashier of the Forest County National Bank, was a mass of flames when neighbors spotted the fire about 10:30 p. m.

Firemen managed to save a nearby garage owned by Win Call. Houses in the district were not too far away but apparently were not endangered.

Mr. Foreman said tonight he could not estimate the loss or tell how much of it was covered by insurance. It was not known how the fire started.

The two-story structure on Williams street, two blocks north of the main four corners in Tionesta, contained a quantity of lumber and a few tools. The old fire truck which was put in storage some time ago when the department here bought a new one could not be saved.

A boat had been stored in the barn but was not in it tonight.

The night fire drew quite a crowd, many of whom were in their nightclothes with coats and jackets over them.

SOUTHWEST TWP. IS MAILING LETTERS

The Southwest Township School District has sent out letters warning several residents that the school census is expected to be completed by Saturday.

Secretary Mary C. Luke said in the letters that she will be home between 2 and 4 p. m. Saturday to accept the enumeration information.

If the information is not in, the letter said, "we will have to turn it over to the Justice of Peace."

Several residents have refused to give the school enumerator the names and ages of their children, because they want the children to go to school in Titusville and not Pleasantville and will pay the tuition themselves. Last week M. A. Kornreich, Warren County district attorney, sent letters reminding residents that if they do not cooperate with the school census taker, they face a $5 fine or five days in jail.

BLACKBERRIES
The New York Times

As blackberries ripen, the fence rows and briar patches are full of dark, sun-warmed, juicy sweetness. This is the time to eat blackberries, since many say with reason that blackberries should be eaten as you pick them, still warm and dead-ripe; certainly they do lose flavor when iced, though they keep better that way.

But who would keep a blackberry, except in a jam pot or a jelly glass? Temporarily with it and you have lost that which is irretrievable, that which makes the blackberry unique. Country folk say that to chill a blackberry is to kill it. Some serve them with cold milk or cream; but even that, say the connoisseurs, is less than perfect. The berry, they insist, at its prime needs nothing more than an appreciative palate, though on occasion it can with profit be folded into a shortcake.

Until about a hundred years ago the blackberry was strictly a child of nature. Since then various strains have been cultured, but it remains a thorny individualist. And the wildlings persist, fortunately; among them are clumps and whole hillsides that, for size and flavor, bow to no backyard berry. Like its cousin, the wild rose, it asks only a roothold and its share of sun and rain; thus accommodated, it thrives and sweetens and beautifies the world.

The enduring destiny of a blackberry, of course, is in jam or jelly; but that is not only an art but a matter quite apart from the open fields. Just now the glory of the briar patches is the berry itself, and for a brief time the glory of the berry needs no embellishment beyond a warm sun, a blue sky, and a picker who knows that a blackberry ripens to be eaten.

STATE PARKS POPULAR

A record number of Pennsylvanians are taking advantage of the economy vacations offered by the Commonwealth's State parks this summer.

The State Bureau of Parks at Harrisburg estimates that some six million persons would make use of the 83,000 acres of recreation land this year with the large majority of them during the current summer season.

An average of 50,000 persons are visiting the parks each day with 2,000 spending each night in tents, trailers and the 167 state-owned cabins.

The popularity of the parks has been increasing each year since the end of World War II, with 4,600,000 visitors last year.

SHORT STORY
Erie Railroad Magazine

A motorist stopped in at a little restaurant late one evening and ordered a cup of coffee.

"Without cream," he added, as the waitress headed for the kitchen.

Presently, the waitress came scurrying back, empty-handed and most apologetic.

"I'm awfully sorry, sir," she said. "There is no more cream. Do you mind having your coffee without milk?"

It would be well for area residents to note information contained in an advertisement and story, found elsewhere in this issue, wherein the Pennsylvania Electric Company lists sections to be effected by interruption of service from five to eight a. m. Sunday morning made necessary by contemplated work on its improvement program.

The disappearance of Mrs. Ethel Wells, wife of F. Gordon Wells, Frewsburg drug salesman, missing from their Elk township summer home for ten days, has furnished Warren county with an enigma that rivals some of the thrilling mystery tales that are woven by authors of phantasmal detective stories.

It's human nature for people to disagree, and smart when they can do it without being disagreeable.

A lot of accidents happen because the driver of a car has a soft shoulder and so does the highway.

If you want to miss some of your friends, just continually try to fall back on them.

"--- But All Candidates Pose With Fish"

Here And There

"Occasionally we receive a communication containing a request that suggests a paragraph that might prove interesting for this column. For instance the one that came in the mail this week which asked "How many states in the United States are known as Commonwealths? I contend that we have four or five, namely Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Virginia, Kentucky and maybe Maryland? Why they are called Commonwealths I do not know." The subscriber was nearer right than he realized. According to "The Pennsylvania Manual" (edited by our own Alice Allen), "Pennsylvania shares with Virginia, Kentucky and Massachusetts the designation of Commonwealth. The term is of English derivation and implies an especial devotion of the government to the 'commonweal', or welfare of its citizens. Peculiarly enough the State Seal of Pennsylvania does not use the term, but as a matter of accepted tradition it is the legal designation to be used in referring to the state. The colony of Penn was known as 'the Quaker Commonwealth' and while it has proved impossible to trace any direct reason for the use of the term, it became accepted during the provincial period. Records of the Pennsylvania conventions show that those who framed the successive constitutions of from 1776 to 1873 continued this terminology without any apparent thought as to its origin. Thus Pennsylvania has continued to enjoy the distinctive appellation 'Commonwealth'."

Many Warren Kiwanians will be interested to learn that a feature of the District Four meeting at St. Marys Monday evening was the presentation of a plaque to Mrs. Effie Mosser, widow of the late J. Belmont Mosser, of St. Marys, in recognition of her husband's participation and contribution toward the success of Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge. The plaque was presented by Richard C. Funk, assistant of the president of Freedom's Foundation. Mr. Mosser, as president of Kiwanis International, was a frequent visitor to the Warren club and has a host of friends who cherish the memory of his enthusiastic and entertaining personality.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Virginia Democrats Can Spurn Nominees, but Probably Won't
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Best information now available from south of the Potomac indicates that there will be no open bolt of Virginia Democrats from the national ticket. A Stevenson-Sparkman campaign headquarters will probably be opened in Richmond in due course, with branch offices in other cities and towns.

This Democratic presidential ticket may get something less than enthusiastic support, however.

One at a time, county and district Democratic leaders have been announcing that they would support Stevenson and Sparkman. But if any Virginia Democrats follow the lead of the Richmond Times-Dispatch to vote for the Republican ticket of Eisenhower and Nixon, there will be no surprise and no political reprisals.

Thus, begrudgingly and with a great deal of foot-dragging, there will be carried out the verbal assurance of support for the Democratic national ticket, made by Gov. John S. Battle for Virginia delegates to the Chicago convention.

ON the basis of this assurance, backed by a motion from Rep. Lansdale Sasser of Maryland, the Virginia delegation was seated at the convention. Subsequent research on the accuracy of this assurance, however, has raised some question on the accuracy of this assurance.

Virginia went through a similar tangle in 1948, when an effort was made to keep the names of Harry S. Truman and Alben W. Barkley and their electors off the Virginia ballot as presidential candidates of the regular Democratic Party. This effort failed, due to a storm of protests in Richmond from regular Democrats in the state. And subsequently Truman and Barkley carried the state over the Thurmond-Wright Dixiecrat opposition.

In February, 1948, however, the then Gov. William M. Tuck had tried to prevent this very development by asking the Virginia General Assembly to pass a new state election law, governing the action of presidential electors. It met with such wide protest that it was watered down somewhat before final passage.

As passed, however, it provides that electors shall be expected to vote in the electoral college for the nominees of the national convention—"unless" they are instructed by the state convention to "vote for other persons."

THUS the way is paved, by Virginia law, for calling a Democratic state convention after the national convention is held. This second convention could conceivably reject the nominees of the national convention and designate another Democratic Party ticket instead.

In that case the ticket chosen by the national convention might have to get on the ballot by circulation of a petition bearing 1000 or more Virginia voters' signatures. If this petition method were used, the name "Democratic Party" could not be used. If straight certification were used, however, there might be two "Democratic" parties on the ticket.

If a second Virginia state convention were to be called—which now seems unlikely—it would have to be held 60 days prior to the Nov. 4 election.

The state central committee, of which ex-Governor Tuck is now chairman, would have to meet and issue its call a week in advance of this deadline, which would be roughly by the end of August. So Virginia Democratic leaders have until then to make up their minds on what course to follow.

Out-of-state tourists spend more than a million dollars a day in Pennsylvania during the summer vacation season, a state survey showed today. The survey, conducted by the State Commerce and Highways Department, revealed that of the total expenditures some 29 per cent was spent for food and meals; 20 per cent for lodging; 23 per cent for auto expenses and the remaining 28 per cent for miscellaneous expenses. These other facts were disclosed; The average motorist remains in Pennsylvania between two and three days and spends $9.10 a day within the commonwealth.

Ralph Peterson, listed in our record book as a letterman on the 1922 Warren High School football team, an employee in the payroll department of the Ford Motor Company in Detroit for the past 28 years, with two of his boys, stopped in the office for a chat Thursday afternoon. Ralph looks much too young to have played scholastic football thirty years ago. He was a little hazy about the record compiled by the team that year, although he was certain that Warren beat Jamestown in 1922 by a 6-0 score. Other statistics about the season that would interest the Warren visitor are that other lettermen consisted of McCune, Gleese, Rasmussen, Anna, Messner, Gaughn, Kistler, Carlson, Main, Marks, Hesch, Schumacher, Genberg, Kennett, McNally, Henry and Raiser. The eleven played 12 games, won 9, lost 2 (Erie Academy and Erie Central), and tied one. It compiled total points for the season of 298 against 46 for their opponents, consisting of Ludlow, Youngsville, North East, Franklin, Kane (two games), Oil City (two games), Ridgway, and of course the two Erie teams and Jamestown. Peterson may have played on teams before 1922, but his name is not listed among the lettermen. The Petersons have three boys, John 11, David 9 and Robert 8. The latter, with his mother was in Jamestown with relatives during the visit of the other three to Warren. During his short but busy stay in town Peterson, as was to be expected, took time out to chat with his old mentor, J. B. Leidig. Older residents will recall that at one time Mr. Peterson's father owned the old Warren Hotel, located in the building now occupied by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

UNCLE EF

The undertaker remarked the other night that probably nobody in town realized more than he did how dead a man is when he's buried. At the same time, he said, he felt Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Jackson were entitled to a good rest after the working over they got at the National Conventions.

Senate Will Determine Civil Rights Issue Regardless of Who Is Elected Next President

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Pa.—The twin ghosts haunting behind the civil rights issue in the presidential campaign are emotion and reality. Emotion overshadows reality all through the campaign. Reality takes charge at the election when Congress is back.

As two presidential candidates, Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson are being quizzed and watched on their position on civil rights, three groups most emotionally involved: Negroes, Southerners, and the Northern White workers of civil rights legisla-

I Eisenhower and Stevenson can any stand they want on civil rights. What they say may win votes or lose them votes. But in the shouting dies, no matter which of them is elected, the president cannot dictate to the U. S. Senate what it must do.

And no civil rights legislation pass the Senate unless 64 of 96 senators want it to. The fact that no civil rights legislation has passed the Senate in the 20th century may be a good indication of what to expect, or not to expect, in the next four years.

For the core of reality in the civil rights dispute rests in the Senate.

If a motion is made to bring up a civil rights bill, the Southern Democrats can filibuster it to death unless 64 of the 96 senators vote to stop the filibuster. Getting a two-thirds vote on such a controversial subject is practically impossible.

All Senate business is done according to rules adopted by the senators themselves. And they alone made the rule that a filibuster against a motion or bill can't be broken except by 64 votes. Since such a vote is almost impossible to obtain, how then could a civil rights bill ever be passed?

About the only chance would be if the senators changed the rule to permit breaking a filibuster with a simple majority of 49 votes. The men who framed the Democratic platform at Chicago recognized the problem and the only possible solution.

So in their platform they "urged" the Senate in 1953 to change its rules to let a filibuster be broken by a majority vote. But this is where the reality in all the hubbub about civil rights becomes truly clear: for there is no rule or method for breaking a filibuster against an attempt to change the rule.

The Changing Landscape

RALPH G. ECKART
Soil Conservation Service,
Warren

Hello folks. The rains we had this week were a little help but there is still a lot of rain needed if crops are to be anywhere near normal. Most of the crops in Warren county, with the possible exception of hay, is now getting into the critical stage as far as rain is concerned. There was a good feature about the rain we did get and that was it came easy and had a chance to soak into the ground. With the ground being as hard as it is a hard rain would have resulted in a very high percentage of runoff, accompanied by a lot of erosion. Even with the rain sinking in as it did it only wet the ground 2 to 3 inches deep. Just a few words to inform you about a minor reorganization that is taking place in the Soil Conservation Service in this region. Originally aenna. was set up to include 19 districts with a District Conservationist in charge of each district. The sudden rapid expansion of the service with very little increase in personnel made the following change necessary. Instead of 19 districts the State is now divided into 7 areas with an Area Conservationist in charge of a much larger area. Instead of being included with the Clarion District, Warren County will now be part of the Northwest Area. This move will result in more efficient and economical operation without reducing the field personnel available to assist the farmers, of this area, in their conservation work.

Sugar Grove Girl Scout Committee Has Brownie Camp

Sugar Grove—The Girl Scout committee reports a very successful Brownie Day Camp held at the full Stockton Farm on the Stillwater road, with 24 girls registered from Lottsville, Chandler's Valley, Lander and Sugar Grove.

Serving as the committee were Mrs. Dorothy Beedle, director; Mrs. Sallie Anderson, assistant; Myrtle Johnson, program director; Mrs. Dora Allen, food chairman; Mrs. Janet Sweeney, equipment chairman; Mrs. Winifred Anderson, Mrs. Arma Gruber, Mrs. Thelma Wolcott and Mrs. Virginia Summerson, in charge of first aid, Mrs. Dorothy Dunn, Mrs. Nellie Gourley, Mrs. Mabel Shrubbs, Mrs. Genevieve Marsh, Mrs. Bessie Knapp, Sue Chase and Virginia Skinner, unit leaders.

On Monday, the girls made bulletin boards and hobo kits, laid out nature trails, went wading and played games. Tuesday, they were taught lashing by Myrtle Johnson and worked with clay from a nearby claybank. Wednesday, three groups laid out nature trails, which two other groups followed, all joined in the finger-painting and went wading.

Thursday, the girls made flower-pot holders for their mothers by pasting finger-paintings on coffee cans and shellacking the finished product, and, in the afternoon, Mrs. Gertrude Cumming and Mrs. Ruth Grant laid a nature trail by marking with labels many of the wild flowers, shrubs and trees. Mrs. Dorothy Stewart printed the labels which were placed by Toge Grant and John Allen. Leaders, as well as the Brownies, learned a great deal through the efforts of their two faithful Scouters, Mrs. Cumming and Mrs. Grant.

Concluding on Friday, the girls completed work in crafts. One of the most enjoyable experiences for the girls was the building of their own campfires and cooking outdoors each day of the week.

The word "diamond" is derived from the Greek word meaning untamable and unconquerable.

MRS. R. LANE WROTH

—Murray Photo

The marriage of Barbara Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hutchins, Baltimore, Md., and Dr. R. Lane Wroth, son of Mrs. E. P. Wroth of Washington, D. C., and the late Rt. Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, of Warren, took place Friday, July 18, at 4:00 p. m. in Hanover Presbyterian church in Wilmington, Del. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Donald Douds, assisted by Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was gowned in white organdy, a ballerna length model, fashioned on graceful lines with insets of accordion-pleated panels of eyelet embroidery. Her finger-till veil of illusion was arranged with a bonnet headdress of tiny accordion pleats and she carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white stephanotis, gardenias and ivy. Mrs. Karl Kubitz, sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore a pink organdy ballerna length gown, styled with tight bodice and full skirt trimmed with eyelet organdy insets. Her floral headdress of stephanotis and pink roses was repeated in her bouquet.

John Lamprey Robertson, Warren, was best man for Dr. Wroth. Mrs. Hutchins, mother of the bride, chose an aqua gown and pink accessories; Mrs. Wroth wore pink with a navy blue crepe. The reception followed immediately in the church parlors, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Rehoboth. Dr. and Mrs. Wroth are at home to friends in Salisbury, Md., where the former is a resident in medicine at Peninsular Hospital.

These Ten Friendly Duties
Keep You in the Social Swim

"DON'T be Socially Lazy" says an article in a current magazine. Well, how about it? Are you?

You can get a pretty good idea of how to answer that by asking yourself the following:

One. Am I fairly prompt about entertaining those who have entertained me? Or, do I let myself get to the place where I "owe" so many people I get depressed just thinking about it?

Two. Have I entertained any new acquaintances in my home during the last three months?

Three. Do I love to be a guest and dislike being a hostess?

Four. Do I make excuses for not entertaining when my husband says we ought to have a particular couple over for dinner?

LACK OF MONEY NO EXCUSE

FIVE. If entertaining often is actually too big a strain on the budget, do I make the effort to round up friends for Dutch Treat parties, family picnics, etc.?

Six. Do I tell myself it is just too difficult to try to entertain when there are small children, and that it will be different when they are a little older?

Seven. Am I a good enough manager so that I can feel at ease entertaining unexpected guests?

Eight. Do members of my family feel free to occasionally ask a friend to share a family meal?

Nine. Do I have a variety of dinner menus so that I don't always serve the same thing to guests?

Ten. Do I make my invitations definite instead of over-working the vague: "Do come by and see us some time?"

It was announced the monthly ridge gathering will be held Saturday, August 21, at 3:00 p. m. at the Warren County Dairy building; also that the sewing group has disbanded until fall.

The date for the next meeting has been changed to September 1, because of the Labor Day holiday with a special evening program planned at the YWCA activities building for husbands and wives. Dinner will be at 7:00 p. m., followed by dancing to record music. The Gay Nineties will be the theme for the evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilder in charge of the program. Dress will be informal.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Stanley Doeblér, program chairman, introduced Mrs. George Nelson for an entertaining talk on interior decorating.

Bible Words to Live by

One of the greatest verses in the Bible is:

PHILIPPIANS 4:19—"But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus."

I choose that for the following reasons:

This verse commends to the reader the only Saviour who is adequate to meet every need of any individual. It is adequate to meet needs as varied as human experiences. It is the verse that gives unlimited assurance to troubled minds and burdened hearts, and if accepted and appropriated it can empower anyone to translate any human experience into a gloriously triumphant event. It is the verse that gives to the triumphant heart the incentive to praise and recognize Him who is all things to all men.

Identity of "Man With Shovel" May Lift Shroud of Mystery Veiling the disappearance of Mrs. Gordon Wells

A suddenly in the rather isolated section where they stand. The se and garage are painted a k shade of red, and a huge kettles hangs between two ones in the front yard. It was nerly the Frank Robbins place, chased by Mr. Wells about four s ago.

he Wells home at 32 Pearl et, Frewsburg, is attractive in ry way, smartly and tastefully nished, supplied with good ks, and has a cheery hospitable asphere. It was because of rs work at the Frewsburg rs and at the summer place t Mr. Wells decided to secure services of a displaced person, come this last spring. Mrs. ells having undergone major surry which sapped her strength, e Displaced Persons Bureau mmunicated with Mr. Wells some nths in advance, recommended isew and he arrived in Novemr instead of in the spring.

Mr. Wells, seated in the living om of the Frewsburg home ursday afternoon, declared he d finally come to believe that rs. Wells is dead "and she is out ere someplace on the hill."

He talked freely about the two-th gh ounce vials of strychnine hich he found missing from the rm home. He explained the esence of strychnine in the house y saying that Mrs. Wells had mplaind of damage done by oms to the porch furniture. hey had torn to pieces an over- rived cran. After bringing the trychnine home, Mr. Wells de- led not to use it, shot one of the oms, then placed a trap near the orch and another attached to the arbage incinerator. He said he ad fully explained to Mrs. Wells he potence of strychnine as a onson. He said he did not use because of neighbors' dogs.

Mr. Wells told the Times-Mirror ysterday that he kept the als in a bureau drawer with eckies and other articles and w them there as late as Tuesday mornng, July 29, when he packed a grip prior to a business trip. His itinary always keeps him way from home on Tuesday ights and that particular night was spent in Olean. He said that when he found Mrs. Wells gone on Wednesday, he discovered the trychnine had disappeared.

"She is not the type of woman who would end her life with trychnine," he declared, yet said he had come to the conclusion she is dead.

Mr. Wells admitted that he is ossessed of "quite a temper" but that Mrs. Wells and he had never had a serious altercation during their 17 years of married life. Ac- quaintances said Mr. Wells often "bares off the handle" but is peni- tent immediately afterward and well known for his generosity. Mr. Wells emphasized that the "words" the couple had on Monday, August 28, were unimportant. He also de- clared that any attraction existed between Mrs. Wells and "Friday," the displaced person, and this was confirmed by neighbors. They said Gusew was a man of small stature, wore thick glasses, was stooped, and had a "Hitler type" mountache. Since coming to Frewsburg to live, Mr. Wells had a Jamestown dentist make the man a set of false teeth.

However, it was again stated today by Sheriff L. E. Linder and Mr. Wells had told him of witness- ing an embrace, July 28, by Mrs. Wells and Gusew. The Sheriff drew a diagram of the Wells farm home in describing what Wells had to say, showing that Wells left his bed room early in the morning, had a straight view from the living room through the din- ing room and into the kitchen where he saw the two in an em- brace. Gusew left on Tuesday, July 30, and Mrs. Wells disappear-

This Country Sheriff Is After a Solution

Once again the efficiency of law enforcement officers in Warren county is being demon- strated in the around-the- clock activities of Sheriff L. E. Linder in his efforts to solve the mysterious disap- pearance of Mrs. Gordon F. Wells.

That Sheriff Linder has un- covered new data in the case was evident today, but he said he was in no position to di- vulge this information to the Times-Mirror at this time. Sheriff Linder has a bulging and complete file of informa- tion regarding the principals involved. Several agencies in New York are aiding him in tracing Wassilij Gusew.

The sheriff has been ably assisted, from the first, by Officer Paul Dell delegated from the local Pennsylvania State Police, as well as by dozens of Akeley, Russell and Robbins Hill residents who have conducted a systematic search of the mountainside.

ed the next day. Witnesses say she traveled some distance with him, down the road, his suit cases in a wheelbarrow, and when he was given a lift she started back home with the barrow. She finally was given a lift by the mail carrier in his jeep, with the bar- row loaded into the rear of the vehicle, according to Sheriff Lin- der.

Upon finding both Mrs. Wells and Gusew missing from the farm home, Mr. Wells drove to the residence at 32 Pearl street, Frews- burg, and found that Gusew also had taken whatever belongings he had left there, using one of the Wells' pieces of luggage. This made three large grips for him to carry, he having been laden with two when neighbors saw him leaving on Tuesday. Not far from the Wells home he was given a lift into Akeley, a ride on a milk wagon from there to Frewsburg, and he later took a bus into Jamestown. For some unexplained reason, Gus- ew then took a bus to Warren where he embarked for New York.

In talking with the Times-Mirror reporter yesterday, Mr. Wells brought out several reasons why he feels his wife did not go far. She did not take her spectacles, and the only pair of shoes found missing is a pair of rough hunting shoes. So far as is known, she wore a blouse and slacks. Mr. Wells says she was meticulous about brushing her teeth after each meal, and that no toilet article is gone. Also, he said she had been having severe trouble with her feet and had not taken as long walks as was her wont last year. A few weeks ago, she took guests to visit an old oil well on the prop- erty and when it was suggested that a short cut home be followed, she admonished against it and pointed out that Mr. Wells had been lost for three hours only a few weeks ago when on a hike near their home.

The Robbins Hill neighbor who was last to see Mrs. Wells before she left "Hill Acres" seems to be Mrs. Barbara Gould of Buffalo, who was at the Gould camp, near the Wells home. She talked with Mrs. Wells as late as Wednesday morning and noticed nothing un- usual about her demeanor at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garfield of Frewsburg, who also have a camp on Robbins Hill on land obtained from Mr. Wells, are staying with Mr. Wells at present. Mrs. Gar- field said yesterday that she has been preparing the evening meal, and leaving coffee for Mr. Wells in the morning. Mrs. Garfield said that she was not well acquainted with the missing woman but had done Red Cross work with her in Frewsburg.

Mr. Wells told a reporter yester- day that he communicated with relatives of Mrs. Wells following her disappearance. Her mother lives in Swanton, Vt. and there is a brother in Long Neck, N. Y. She has not turned up at these two homes, nor with other friends and relatives whom he has called. The Wells have no children, but Mr. Wells has a married daughter from an earlier union.

Neighbors along the quiet, tree- shaded street in Frewsburg said none of them had become acquaint- ed with Mr. and Mrs. Wells to any degree of intimacy. "She was a quiet, pleasant woman, and kept much to herself" was the concen- sus of opinion. Neighbors said they never knew of any domestic trou- bles the couple may have had.

Many a resident of the moun- tainous section in the area where the Wells farm home is located has been scanning the hillside with bi- noculars for vultures and crows, the sure sign of death in the for- est. But Sheriff L. E. Linder said yesterday that a dead deer, which has lain in the woods for about eight days, has not as yet drawn the creatures from the skies, and the possibility of this almost in- evitable warning is discounted.

Paper Plant Says Market Is Swamped By Pulp Cutters

Titusville Herald: Woodcutters in this area who feed paper mills in Erie are feeling the pinch of competition brought about by slumping employment figures in western Pennsylvania.

Woodmen who normally ship three and four truckloads or more a week have been cut back drasti- cally by the paper producers be- cause the manufacturers are load- ed with wood.

A spokesman for The Ruberoid Company, one of the two large paper concerns in Erie, said, "It seems like everybody this side of the Atlantic Ocean is cutting wood now. Our problem is storage. We just haven't any place to put all the wood we're offered."

The official said that at least 300 cutters, most of them new, have tried to sell wood to Ruberoid in the past few weeks. Hammer- mill, the other large paper manu- facturer in Erie, is in the same buyer's market.

As a result, the going price is $13 a cord. The paper makers have to add $1.25 to $2.50 to at- tract wood producers when indus- try is booming and few men are cutting wood.

To make it tougher for the in- dependent cutter, The Ruberoid Company has its own forest acre- age near Spring Creek.

One pulp cutter told The Herald he thought the cutbacks in orders for wood were due to the steel strike. He said that Ruberoid has had cancellations of orders for in- sulating paper and other paper products used in construction, which forced the company to cut down its production.

But the Ruberoid spokesman said business is pretty good now. Orders were slow in the spring, he added, but it looks as though Rub- eroid will be busy at least until fall.

The manufacturers began to re- fuse wood early in June and by the last of June, even their regular suppliers were cut back consider- ably. Some woodmen in this area are now casting about for markets elsewhere for their wood.

HELL'S HORSEMAN

Chapter 27

MONTANA'S trembling legs seemed to give way all of a sudden. He fell on the grass and there he panted, too weak to move. "I... I've just killed Run- der," he said.

Jim Thornton didn't answer and Montana looked at his father. The older man sat like a wooden statue, eyes staring at the ground in front of him. "I can't get over it, Brand," he finally said. "Belle walked straight to me. She didn't say a word, Brand—not till she came home and put both arms around my neck. Then she said, 'No matter what you've done, Dad, you're still my father and I still love you and I always will.' And I had to tell her the rest of it—about you."

It had begun to quiet down over there at Buckner's. The shouted oaths had subsided and Montana guessed that Buckner and the others were out on foot, trying to haze one or two of the gentler horses back into the corral to use them in rounding up the others.

"So Belle knows about me?" Montana asked, musingly. His eyes too, looking out into the night.

"She knows—that you're both my own kids. She took it for a minute and then broke down com- pletely."

Montana changed the subject. "Did they get away all right?"

His father nodded. "I told Ben Carson to go where you'd said. Up to that place where he took you before, under Horseshoe Peak. It's not too far from here and they ought to make it in a few hours. They'd better, because the trader is about done in."

Montana got to his own feet as the older man wearily mounted. "Where are you going?" he asked.

"Back," his father said. "Back to the ranch. I built that ranch and I want to die on it. Black Jack is no fool. He'll swoop in by day- light at the latest and take over with part of his men while the others get after Ben Carson and Austin and the girls. I want to be

More North Korean Targets Pounded

Munsan, Korea (P)—With United Nations warplanes pounding North Korean military targets in redoubled fury, the U. N. Com- mand today asked the Reds for more information on how they mark their camps for U. N. pris- oners of war.

The Reds have declared that all their prisoner camps are marked properly. But the senior U. N. truce delegate, Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, has told them that U. N. reconnaissance planes have been unable to find camps marked as described.

A note from Harrison asking more information was given the Communists at Panmunjom today at a 20-minute meeting of liaison officers.

In a second note Harrison re- jected a Red charge that a U. N. warplane flew over the Panmun- jum neutral zone Aug. 4.

Red China's Peiping radio, in a propaganda blast, called Harrison a liar and a negotiator "with nothing to say."

Armistice negotiations, in a second week-long recess, resume Monday.

PRODUCERS TO HOLD PICNIC ON SATURDAY

The fifth annual picnic of the Middle District Producers Association will take place Saturday, at the Vern Cinger camp, Colorado, on the Enterprise-Tidoute road.

Q. L. Wilcox, of Oil City, association president, said the outing will begin at 2:30 p. m. Dinner will be served by a Titusville caterer at 5:30 p. m.

Negotiations are under way to obtain two prominent speakers. The Petroleum Administration for Defense in Washington is expected to send a representative to explain the impact of the steel strike on the oil industry and the steps taken by PAD to arrange an equitable distribution of available steel for oil field drilling and equipment repair.

A major Pittsburgh steel company is expected to send a spokesman to outline the steel producer's problems created by the strike and the steps that will be taken to reach a solution.

The Cinger camp has been the site of the producers' annual picnics since their inception. The yearly event attracts nearly 200 oil men.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures PREFABRICATED and pre-cut houses offer different ways to build. This is an example of a pre-cut house, packaged and delivered to the site with all parts precision-measured to fit together. It was developed by the Paragon Builders of Minneapolis, N. Y. Daniel Greenhauff, head of the firm, says savings up to 40 per cent of the cost of a custom-built house are possible when the buyer does some of the work himself. Materials for a five-room house with garage and breezeway come to slightly more than $4,500; a six-room story-and-a-half house runs about $200 more. A professional crew can erect these houses in less than three weeks. The buyer provides the lot and foundation and hooks up with utilities.

$1000 AN HOUR?

The time you spend planning your Will and selecting a capable, responsible Executor to carry out its instructions may easily be worth $1000 an hour to your family. For a poorly planned Will—or none at all—and an inexperienced Executor, or Administrator, can prove very expensive.

Your attorney can best draw your Will. See that your money is left to the people of your choice. This Bank is well qualified by position and experience to act as Executor. May we talk with you, in confidence and without obligation, about modern estate methods.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures

PREFABRICATED and pre-cut houses offer different ways to build. This is an example of a pre-cut house, packaged and delivered to the site with all parts precision-measured to fit together. It was developed by the Paragon Builders of Mineola, N. Y. Daniel Greenhauff, head of the firm, says savings up to 40 per cent of the cost of a custom-built house are possible when the buyer does some of the work himself. Materials for a five-room house with garage and breezeway come to slightly more than $4,500; a six-room story-and-a-half house runs about $200 more. A professional crew can erect these houses in less than three weeks. The buyer provides the lot and foundation and hooks up with utilities.
